SALUTE THE FLAG

What To Do On Memorial Day Or Any Time When the Banner Goes By.

The American Legion, Department of Maine, issues a special bulletin to be read before all the Posts. It is good instruction, not only for service men but for all citizens as well. Study this piece of Flag Etiquette and then practice it:

HATS OFF TO OLD GLORY

What to Do When the Flag Passes By

Rules for Men:
If in uniform, snap attention and salute.
If in civilian clothes (civies) stand up—simply remove your hat with your right hand and place it against your left shoulder.
Rules for Women:
All that is deemed necessary for a woman to do is to stand at attention for a moment as the flag passes by.
Each flag—Stars and Stripes or the allied flags should be saluted.

Cantilevers Are Restful Shoes for Men and Women

We all complain about uncomfortable chairs. And yet it is less tiring to be seated than to stand. If all the people would exercise the same haste in selecting comfortable shoes as they do in securing the most comfortable seats, there wouldn't be enough Cantilever Shoes to go around.

Fortunately it takes a long time to bring home to everyone the news about Cantilever Shoes. Advertising a good article is a slow process; only the fakir can sell quickly and he has to be quick. We see new buyers of Cantilever Shoes every day; we know how good these shoes are and we are going to keep on advertising them.

LIKE AN EASY CHAIR

They're good looking shoes. They're comfortable. They're well made, according to scientific principles which are for your benefit—not ours. They're priced right—a dollar value for a dollar cost. Not the old dollar but the new dollar. They're restful shoes, as nice to stand in and walk in as your easy chair is to sit in.

"Better Shoes—Better Feet—Better Health." Come and see the Cantilever.

GETTIGAN MURDER TRIAL

Former Rockland Man Charged With Killing Aunt—
Medical Experts Testify That 2.93 Grains of Arsenic Were Found In Body.

J. Thomas Gettigan, formerly of Rockland, now of Revere, Mass., is on trial in Superior Criminal Court, Boston, charged with murder in the first degree, in having solicited a man to kill his uncle, Clinton W. Richardson of Revere.

The defendant was indicted several months ago in connection with his government indictment on another charge, that of causing the death of his aunt, Mrs. Lizzie M. Cook of Revere, by arsenic. It is alleged that Gettigan's object was to secure the estate of his uncle and aunt, aggregating some $200,000.

In outlining the case to the jury at the morning session, Assistant District Attorney Lyons said that the Commonwealth will show that "twice the amount of arsenic that is compatible with life" was found in the body of Mrs. Cook when it was exhumed some three months after her death, June 19, 1921, and that besides Mrs. Cassie F. Richardson, her sister, who lives in the apartment under the Gettigans with her husband, Clinton W. Richardson, a neighbor, Miss Agnes Riley, and another neighbor who has since died, nobody but the Gettigans had had access to Mrs. Cook.

Under direct examination Mrs. Richardson testified that Mrs. Cook's estate consisted of a camp at Foxboro, valued at $500; an account of $800 in a Foxboro bank; $200 in a Lynn bank, and $54 in her pocketbook. She said that her deceased husband, on account of whose illness the trial has been long delayed—his death occurring two weeks ago—left an estate valued at $15,000, and that just previous to his death he had turned over to her about $6000.

Mrs. Richardson testified that Mr. Gettigan tried to find out how much of an estate her sister, Mrs. Cook, had three weeks before her death, and that a number of times before that he had tried to "find out what she had." She testified also that Gettigan had tried to discover "how much Mr. Richardson had," and that Gettigan "kept count of the money coming in at the shooting gallery and figured up how many years Mr. Richardson had had it."

She said that Gettigan had worked at the shooting gallery more than a year. She asserted that they took in $6000 a week easily during the busy season, and that Mr. Richardson had been the owner 21 years.

Mrs. Richardson testified that Mr. Gettigan is her brother's son, and that previous to a year ago last summer she had not seen him for 37 or 38 years. She testified that the health of her sister, Mrs. Cook, was "fairly good from 1917 until she came to Revere in 1921." She said that when she and her husband came back from a trip to Florida Mrs. Cook was in the hospital.

She said that Mr. Gettigan and Mrs. Gettigan were going to be married about that time, and that Mr. Gettigan said they wanted Mrs. Cook to come and live with them. Mrs. Richardson said she told them that was for rent, and that they took it. She testified that Mrs. Cook boarded with them and was paying for her board, and that she took her meals with Mrs. Gettigan.

She declared that one day on the beach, shortly after Mrs. Cook had left the hospital, Mr. Gettigan said to her, "Aunt Lizzie won't be alive in two weeks." "I said, 'Why, she's improving,'" and he replied that "she isn't holding her own," witness continued.

She testified to being awakened one night shortly before Mrs. Cook's death.

"quite some days" after Mrs. Cook's death that he received the death certificate to sign. He said all symptoms pointed to perniciosis (anemia).

Under cross-examination Dr. Nigro admitted having prescribed pills for Mrs. Cook in addition to the sedative. He said the pills contained, among other ingredients, iron and arsenic. He declared he had noticed nothing about her condition which impressed him as suspicious. He said that there was nothing about the Gettigan's actions which made him suspicious.

In redirect, Mr. Lyons asked Dr. Nigro if there was anything, including the medical examiners report, which had later come to his attention, which changed the original opinion of perniciosis anemia. "Well, I couldn't say," the doctor replied. "No, I could not change my opinion." In answer to Mr. Lyons' question as to whether the pills he prescribed contained 1.17 of a grain of arsenic, Dr. Nigro replied: "About that. One fourteenth of a grain or so."

"Did you know that four grains of arsenic were found in the body?" Mr. Lyons asked him. Attorney Wallworth objected sharply, but after a conference at the bench Judge DuBois allowed the question. The defense took an exception.

In cross-examination attorney Wallworth asked Dr. Nigro how soon after death an autopsy should be performed to be useful. "As soon as possible after death," the witness responded. "You wouldn't say three months after death is a good time?" "Well, that's a little late."

Miss Agnes Riley testified that she lives next door to the Gettigans, and could look into Mrs. Cook's window and when the windows were open she could hear what was going on in the room. She testified to helping in the care of Mrs. Cook in her last week's illness, and that, besides Mrs. Richardson, the Gettigans were the only ones with Mrs. Cook.

She testified to seeing Mrs. Gettigan take a jar of beef juice the day after Mrs. Cook's death and to hearing her say: "It's no good. I'm going to throw it away." She told of Mrs. Cook's great distress during the last week, indicated by her moaning, her thrashing about on the bed and her being delirious. She said on Wednesday night Mrs. Cook bit her in the thigh. She referred frequently throughout her testimony to Mrs. Cook's throat. She said Mr. Gettigan was on hand much of the time.

Miss Riley testified to having seen Dr. Nigro's pills given to Mrs. Cook on her tongue with water. She said she last saw Mrs. Cook swallow on the Thursday preceding her death.

Dr. Edward A. Knowles of 1547 North Shore road, Revere, testified that he visited Mrs. Cook on June 3, 1921. He said he had been called to treat Mr. Gettigan, who was sick, and that Mr. Gettigan had asked him to see Mrs. Cook. After finding that Dr. Nigro was in charge of the case he said that he did not treat Mrs. Cook. Under cross-examination by attorney Wallworth he said that he noticed nothing about Mrs. Cook to arouse suspicion.

Yesterday's Proceedings

In the trial of J. Thomas Gettigan of Revere in the Superior Criminal Court for first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Lizzie M. Cook, his aunt, medical experts yesterday testified that 2.93 grains of arsenic, "more than twice as much as is compatible with life" was found in her body when it was exhumed three months after death, June 19, 1921.

Gettigan appeared unconcerned as the testimony revealing the presence of the two grains of the arsenic was found in an organ where it would most probably arrive, according to the testimony, only by introduction through the mouth.

Gettigan has spent most of the two days looking out of the window, only showing interest by a quick turn of the head when some pertinent question was put sharply to a witness. His wife sits close to him, behind the cage, following the testimony with nervous interest, and around her are grouped a number of friends of herself and her husband.

Medical Examiner George Burgess MacGrath of Suffolk county testified that he believes the cause of Mrs. Cook's death was "poisoning by arsenic," but he would not say that she had not had pernicious anemia. He testified that the embalming fluid in preparing Mrs. Cook's body contained no arsenic.

Under cross-examination Dr. MacGrath said that the arsenic was not administered "in solid form or in solutions of sufficient concentration to cause changes in the lining of the stomach." He said that he believes that some of the poison was given "days before her death" and "some had been introduced hours—rather than days—before her death and in considerable quantities."

Dr. William F. Bros, toxicologist and physiological chemist, described in detail the process through which he put the specimens of Mrs. Cook's body to determine the presence of arsenic. He testified that he found "140 milligrams, or exactly two grains, of white arsenic, in the bladder contents."

MEMORIAL DAY
In Flanders fields springtime has come again,
With rain and leaf and buds serenely red,
Decking, in nature's bounteous, kindly way,
The hallowed ground where rest our soldier dead.

This Memory Day the soil of wounded France
Receives the homage of a countless host.
For cradled in her bosom now she holds
The gallant youth whom Allied nations lost.

No more they'll hear at eve the bugles blow,
Or see the welcome gleam of the honey fires;
Their marching feet are free from aching strain;
They shall not heed the urge of old desires.

Oh that those pilgrims from a thousand ports,
Who journey forth to view this sacred ground,
May fair conceive and truly understand
The sacrifice they made ere peace was found.

Let them forever lie there in the spot,
Where, facing the foe, their life's sun set,
And we, in keeping faith with the brave fight,
Cherish their memory! Let us not forget!

There evidently exists in the minds of some persons the notion that a Chamber of Commerce is formed solely for the purpose of securing new industries. This, of course, is the main hope of such an organization, and anybody can see the value of having a live bunch of business men ready to take advantage of the occasional opportunities which present themselves in this line. But it would be a precarious existence indeed, if that is all a Chamber of Commerce had to depend upon.

"What is this Chamber of Commerce?" "What is it going to do?" You often hear these questions; perhaps have asked them, satirically, or with an honest desire to gain information. Concrete answers are to be found in the report of George C. Clarke, secretary of the Augusta Chamber of Commerce, published in Tuesday's Kennebec Journal. It tells of definite, concrete results achieved in the past year and outlines a program for the present year. The outstanding major results were the promotion of the retail trade, and the engineering of the first annual State of Maine Winter Carnival. A scientific plan, co-operative effort, the expenditure of energy, and the proper advertising of the city as a retail center, brought results entirely satisfactory to the merchants of Maine's capital. The Winter Carnival proved a wonderful benefit to the community, which got more advertising than it possibly could have had from any other source. The report also contains a summary of work done on the following planks: Garbage collection, sidewalks, freight rates, street cleaning, pure milk, transportation, trolley service, daylight saving, rural relations and winter sports. The major program for the coming year contains four planks: The adoption of a definite policy of good roads; the work of building more houses and apartments for Augusta; the securing of more industries for Augusta, and nation-wide publicity for Augusta. The secretary supplements his report with the following suggestions:

During the coming year we should give careful attention to further retail expansion by studying the needs and taste of our people. We should cultivate a spirit of loyalty to our city so that every resident will adopt the "All try Augusta first" policy.

We should give careful thought to making our city attractive to conventions so that all of the small conventions will consider Augusta as their permanent annual meeting place.

We should provide better parking facilities by the elimination of "all day" cars. This can be accomplished if our business men will leave their cars on the upper level, walking the hills instead of parking on Water street. Let us be hospitable to our visitors by giving them the first chance at our curbing.

By the proper use of oil and by sprinkling frequently and by washing Water street twice each week the dust, that is so annoying, so unhealthy, and so destructive of clothing and property, can be largely eliminated. It is quite possible that a 50-50 arrangement with the city could be perfected.

Another need is for a comfort station.

Augusta is a larger city than Rockland and occupies a more prominent position, yet it is not many miles distant and its interests are identical. What Augusta can do, Rockland can do, in a reasonable ratio, at least. Tomorrow night's meeting at the City Government rooms will have an important bearing on the city's business future.

The public service in the open air held at the Achor Cemetery on Memorial Day of last year proved of so successful a character as to suggest its maintenance as a regular feature of this great anniversary. It is a pleasure to announce that the feature will be included in the day's observance this year, with a brief address by Rev. Mr. Browne and the singing of sacred and patriotic songs by the public, led by a chorus.

WE BOW TO THOMASTON

But 'Twas a Snug Rub, Tell Yer Folks—Again We Recommend To Keep An Eye On Vinalhaven.

Nice little seesaw contest the Knox & Lincoln League is giving us. Last week Rockland and Camden were the respective leaders, and today it's Thomaston. Who dares bet that it will not be Vinalhaven or Lincoln a week from now?

Thomaston 6 2 750
Camden 4 2 666
Lincoln 4 2 666
Vinalhaven 3 2 500
Rockland 4 3 555
Rockport 1 6 143
Union 0 5 000

Vinalhaven 6, Camden 4.
It took just three innings for Vinalhaven High to sew up its game with Camden, on the Vinalhaven grounds yesterday. This doesn't mean that the game was all talked over in three innings, however, for the Camden boys are game birds, and carried the struggle right up to the end of the 5th inning.

Raymond was going good, as may be judged from the fact that the visitors were held to four scattered hits. Behind him was some classy fielding, particularly on the part of Snow and Chilles, while Patrick gesticulated with a mean bat, to use an expression of the moment. The victory gave great joy to the island spectators who are now convinced that Manager Lynch's team is very much in the running.

The summary:
Thomaston 13 11 0 0 0 0—6
Camden 0 0 2 0 0 1 0—1
Base hits, Vinalhaven 8, Camden 4.
Errors, Vinalhaven 4, Camden 6.

Lincoln 11, Rockport 5.
Rockport High turned loose a large flock of errors in the 2d and 8th innings at Oakland Park yesterday, and they marked the turning point in what would otherwise have been a very close game. The Academy players, and their supporters went home in high glee for was not their team up in the king row? The summary:
Lincoln 0 4 1 0 0 2 1 3 0—11
Rockport 0 2 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—5
Base hits, Lincoln 9, Rockport 8. Errors, Lincoln 4, Rockport 9.

Thomaston 3, Rockland 2

No fair-minded person who saw yesterday's game at Oakland Park will be unwilling to admit that it was a hard game to lose, and it is equally true that no fair-minded person will begrudge the Thomaston team its victory. The two teams were about as evenly matched as it is possible for High School teams to be, and it remained for the fortunes of war to say which would be the winner. The F. of W. decreed that Mealey should slip when he beat a retreat for first base after trying to stretch his slashing hit into a double. Most of the spectators were in the dark as to why Umpire Gleason called the runner out at first, but he did, and the decision stood. It appears that Mealey overran the bag in returning.

The first inning was an eventful one for both teams. Thomaston was first at bat, and E. Lindsey led off with a grounder which C. Record could not quite reach. He stole second and scored on L. Sawyer's hit. A Lindsey having meantime fanned. Feehan was patched. Williams was out, C. Record to Stewart, but the play advanced. Sawyer to third, whence he scored after a pitched ball had rebounded into the diamond from Lord's shoes. It was right here that the fortunes of war got in their first uppercut at Rockland's expense. E. Sawyer struck out, and Thomaston's fun was ended for the time being.

Record led off for Rockland with a high fly to center field. Hall, who was taking Newbert's place in center, fell in running over the turf crest, and the ball went far beyond his reach. Record scored while the ball was being relayed to home. This was all the run that Rockland was able to make until the 7th inning, although it had succeeded in getting a man on a base in every inning except the 2d. Feehan was pitching great ball and having great support.

Thomaston's third and last run came in the 3d inning when L. Sawyer, after being passed, stole second, went third on a wild pitch, and scored on Feehan's sacrifice fly.

E. Sawyer reached second in the 4th inning, and A. Lindsey was on third in the 5th, but each time young Rising tightened, and the needed hit was not forthcoming. The 7th inning furnished plenty of thrills on both sides of the fence. Lindsey led off with a scratch double. Hall fanned and E. Lindsey's long fly to left field was scooped in by Flanagan. A Lindsey was passed and stole second. At this critical juncture with a man on second and a man on third (two hands down) L. Sawyer walloped the ball on a line into center field. It looked so much like a hit that both runners crossed the plate. But they forgot that "Jeff" Mealey, the star fielder of the Knox and Lincoln League, had charge of that ballfield. On the dead run Mealey caught the ball close to the ground, so close that he turned a somersault, but he came up smiling with the ball. Thomaston protested that he had "trapped" the ball but this did not go, and the result was no run. In Rockland's half of the 7th Flanagan was out, Williams to Elliot. It was one of several pretty plays made by this combination. E. Lindsey erred on Lord's grounder, and the Rockland captain proceeded to make the circuit of bases—to second on a steal, to third on a passed ball, and home when Williams missed Hall's grounder. What happened in that disappointing 9th has already been told.

If cheers had been scores Rockland would have won, for the bobbed-hair rah-rahers, led by Misses Freeman, Griffin and Perry certainly out-bollered Miss Cocoran's cohorts over on the first base rail fence.

A big crowd saw the game, and called it a good one. There's disappointment in the Rockland camp, but no crying over spilled milk. The score:

"millions now living will never die"

---Judge Rutherford

"MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE!"

In less than a year this proclamation has found its way into thirty languages and the message is being heralded to millions of people in thousands of cities in every land of the earth. "Millions now living will never die!" "Who ever heard of such a thing? Preposterous," you will say. So said the scoffers to Noah: they had never seen rain—but the flood came on time. "Millions now living will never die," but will enjoy unending human life on the earth and ascend a highway of righteousness to full perfection of body, of mind, of character, in company with their loved ones returned from the grave. When the kingdom of God is fully established mankind will have no more fear of sickness or accident, old age or death; no more dread of loss of home, or loved ones, or livelihood; no more sorrow or tears.

"MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE!"

You may be one of them. Go! Hear the proof of these most marvelous tidings. Testimony upon testimony, evidence upon evidence, Biblical, historical, scientific—appealing to your reason as well as to your heart—will be presented without cost in the lecture by What appears to be a new headlight on the front of one of the Deep Sea trucks this week is in reality the light radiating from the countenance of Alden Ulmer, Jr., one of the corporation's drivers. Kora Temple will hold a "Shrine and Field day," exclusively for Shriners, in Lewiston one week from today, and the Knox County membership is to be well represented. The Shriners will lunch at Lake Grove at noon, and will have a program of sports lasting until 3 o'clock. Dinner will be served continuously from 3:30 to 7. The program for the remainder of the day follows, 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.—Entertainment at main hall; 6 p. m., parade (short and snappy); 7 p. m., ceremonial; 9 to 10:30 p. m., good night lunch in the banquet hall.

"Gas masks will be issued to all pedestrians who travel in this zone." Signs like this may be expected unless there is an early abatement of the nuisance which is being maintained at the city dump, according to those who live within smelling distance. Yesterday there was an indignation meeting, to which Aldermen McIntosh and Achorn were bidden. Two sniffs and they were converted. Health Officer McCarty, wise in years and experience, did his sniffing by telephone. "The city will be glad to co-operate," said he. And until it does the residents will continue to pray for offshore winds.

The Sea Products Co. shipped 60-odd barrels of pollock and cod to the Boston markets last night. ANNOUNCEMENT

Watch for full page itemized advertisement of MAY CLEAN UP SALE in Thursday's issue of the Knox Messenger and Saturday's Courier-Gazette. The sale opens SATURDAY, MAY 27, and continues until JUNE 1, inclusive.

W. O. Hewitt & Co.

David G. Hodgkins and "Newt" Morgan left Georges Lake at Liberty yesterday afternoon with as pretty a salmon as has been taken this season. Newt caught the first after playing it about three-quarters of an hour. It weighed 6½ pounds.

The Sophomore class of Rockland High School have a dance at Temple hall tonight. The Gredy-Cables-Burns orchestral trio will occupy the stage.

David L. McCarty and William McKay attended the State convention of the Knights of Columbus in Waterville this week. Edward F. Flaherty of Portland was re-elected State deputy. The next State convention will probably be held at Mt. Kineo House, Moosehead Lake. A resolution endorsing the establishment at Colorado Springs, of a national home for disabled veterans of the World War, regardless of creed, was passed.

There's much curiosity on the part of the local fans to see how Oliver Hamlin will shape up next Monday night in his bout with Young Doyle of Boston. The Rockland lad has been training steadily since his last fight, and has probably added considerable degree of science to his powerful punch. What he is able to do against Doyle will have a strong bearing on his future in the ring. Properly handled there's no reason in the world why he should not make some of the present stars look like the proverbial 30 cents. And there's also much curiosity to see how Kid Howell of Waldoboro will make it with Harry Kid Lewis of Lewiston. The Waldoboro champion has certainly been too many guns for his opponents thus far, and it is apparent that it will require a good man to take his measure. One thing about next Monday night's exhibition—there'll be no quitting on the part of Hamlin or Howell. Kid Proctor of Winslow's Mills and Kid Mason of Rockland are booked for the preliminary.

E. B. Hastings, Frank W. Fuller, William D. Talbot and Vesper A. Leach attended the sessions of the State Dry Goods Association in Bangor Tuesday. 'Twas an ideal day for the trip and the convention was well attended.

Deputy Sheriff Granville Bachelder of St. George unfolded a curious looking package in The Courier-Gazette office yesterday, and revealed an antiquated wooden bit brace, which could probably trace its ancestry back 150 years—maybe two centuries. The instrument was constructed wholly of wood, with the exception, of course, of the steel bit and the ferrule which held it in place. It was found in the attic of Edward Harris' residence in Martinsville, and was probably used in the lifetime of the latter's father, Jason Harris, who died at a ripe old age. Mr. Bachelder exhibited the bit-stock yesterday to some of the local card-payers who expressed much interest in this relic of bygone days.

An officers' school for officials of the Coast Artillery Corps once a month has been authorized the local command by the adjutant general. The first session has been ordered by Commander Butler to take place next Sunday, immediately following Memorial day services and will be for officers and staff members stationed in Knox county. The school is to be devoted to the theoretical study of coast artillery problems. They are to be held each month hereafter except possibly next month when a regimental school has been called in Portland from June 24 to June 29.

Good Penmanship Day was observed Monday by Grade 6 McLain. The entire program was the composition of the pupils. It was as follows: "Hurrah for Palmer Method," Ruth Lawrence; "Palmer Cheer," John Brown; "Thanks to Palmer Writing," Charlotte Brown; Good Words for Mr. Sterling and Palmer Writing, Rose O'Neil, Theodore Bird, Annie Dean, Carol Flanagan, Helen Bird, Mary Bird and Myrtle Demmons; "What Palmer Teaches Us," Ralph Fowler; "Welcome to Palmer Writing," Wesley Wasgatt; Alphabet for Mr. Sterling, Muriel Stover; "Palmer Will Shine," class; Palmer yells.

Pupils in the three eighth grades are making out High School enrollment blanks this week. Most of the students are signing up for classical or commercial work. With 116 pupils in these three grades Rockland High is sure to have its usual large Freshman class next fall.

Clintonia, poison hemlock, bunch berry, lambkill, lady's slipper, painted trillium, mustard, wild cherry and pear, twisted stalk and red clover are among the flowers brought into Grade 8A this week by Vera Studley, Hugh Little, and Walter Richardson. Pupils of this grade are to have an all day picnic at Ash Point on Saturday June 3. Baseball, swimming and a clam-bake are among the things to be enjoyed.

Teacher and pupils are more than proud of a beautiful vase presented to them by Bertha Knight to hold the many wild flowers brought to school these days and we all thank thoughtful little Bertha.

Grades 2 and 3 McLain are very happy to welcome Gee Mee Haw and Gee See Coy as classmates, who have come to recently from Grade 1.

Antoinette LaChance has ranked the berg hold the honor ranks the past two weeks in Grade 3 McLain.

Bertha Knight, Francis McAlary, Lucy French, David and Donald Cole, Madeline Coffey and Dorothy Lindbergh hold the honor ranks the past two weeks for Grade 2.

The Flower Calendar in Grade 1 McLain is becoming larger each day. Those who have found the most flowers are Burton Beckmore, Herbert Spear, Virginia Piper, Rachel Browne and Frances Knowlton.

The girls of Grade 5 have two baseball teams. Max Cohen and Philip Dondis are umpires. The boys take turns in keeping score.

This is "Patriotic Week" in Grade 8C as they are preparing for their turn in entertaining at the outdoor assembly. During the opening exercises the entire grade is learning the poem "Flag of My Land," two of the boys are giving short talks on "Why I Am an American," one of the girls on "Days We Honor." The rest of the period is taken up by patriotic songs and a story read by the teacher.

Raymond Pendleton is the marshal for Grade 6 McLain this month.

The pupils of Grade 8B are finishing their study of geography by writing travel stories of a journey around the world, arranging them in booklets with covers. Very well designed covers have been passed in by Albert Quinn, Charles Staples and Dana Cummings. Among the best stories are those by Celia Dyer, Bertha Smalley, Anna Gordon and Henry Day. This grade conducts the outdoor assembly Wednesday morning and will give the following program: The Battle of the Marston; School Flag Salute; Lord's Prayer; Scripture reading; Helen Collett; Sketch of Kipling's Life; John Anderson; J. C. Dyer; Recessional; Class; Quotations from Kipling, Henry Day, Frances Merchant, Ethel Smalley and Henrietta Libby; When Earth's Last Picture is Painted, Anna Richardson.

Twenty-four of the pupils of Grade 8A are the proud possessors of their first Palmer pins. All are now working for their gold pins.

During the three years of its existence the Rockland Teachers Association has probably never had a more profitable and pleasant year than the one which closed last Thursday night. At 5:30 the members sat down to the following excellent menu: Bouillon, Pickles, Olives, Celery, Chicken Salad, Mashed Potato, Tea Biscuit, Pineapple Sherbet, Salties, Fancy Cookies, and Coffee. The decorations and supper were under the direction of the McLain teachers with Miss Helen Piper as chairman. Wild flowers, brought in by the school children of McLain Building, helped to give the room a spring-like appearance. The tables carried out this idea also for the place cards were bouquets of violets. Supper was served by Nathalie Robinson, Nellie Snow, Ruth Stevenson, Helena Huntley, Ruth Clark, and Helen Robinson of Grade 8A. At the close of the supper the business meeting was called. At the suggestion of Supt. Hull a rising vote of thanks was given to Pres. Taylor for his splendid work in behalf of the Association. This Association also went on record as wishing to express a great deal of gratitude to Miss Piper for the extra work which she has done so cheerfully and efficiently in putting through the various suppers of the year. Miss Margaret Ruggles, who has been out on a leave of absence, was the guest of honor for the evening. The Association has had several fine speakers on its program this year. In October Judge Miller gave an interesting and instructive talk on Local History. In January a banquet was held at Hotel Rockland at which Gov. Baxter, State Supt. Thomas, State Librarian Dunsmack and other prominent Maine officials were the guests of the Association. At the close of the banquet Gov. Baxter and Supt. Thomas spoke on "Maine's Schools." In February the Association entertained Rev. Eva Ryerson Ludgate, who has been called America's foremost Woman Preacher. She gave a fine address on "Advantages of European Travel to a Teacher."

In Grade 7C United States History is being reviewed by dramatization. A popular scene last Friday was from the Battle of Bunker Hill, the weapons being an ancient musket and a deadly yard stick. The opening exercises in this grade are being conducted this week by the Boy Scouts, under the direction of Lawrence Richardson, Elmer Young and Charles Blaisdell. "The Boy Scout" by Denis McCarthy is the favorite poem for the week.

EAST APPLETON

Mrs. Addie Robbins has returned home after spending the winter in Harvill, Mass.

Visitors at Jacob Paul's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coates of Camden and Raymond Bowley and family of Union.

This is the beautiful time of the year. Pear and cherry trees are in bloom, the scent of the strawberry and violet wafted on each breath of air, the starry dandelion dotting the velvet green, and the sky a May blue. What more can be added to this earthly paradise? What wonder that Flu says adieu? It should be termed the New Year, we think.

Albert and Almond Gushue are huddlers when it comes to grafting trees. They recently grafted 50 in George Ames' orchard in one day.

The three-act drama "Willowdale" was presented Thursday evening at Riverside Hall by Appleton dramatic talent. There was a full house, and it was pronounced by all to be a great hit. Ice cream was served. The Appleton orchestra furnished music between acts and for the dance that followed.

Plans are being made for Memorial Day observance by the Association. It is earnestly hoped that every veteran may be able to be present, and that the citizens will honor themselves, their country and their flag by their tributes and by their cooperation and presence at this day of all days. It is God's day, our Nation's day, and our day. Our day to return thanks for the Nation's day of Glory, for God's day of Peace.

Mrs. Mildred Tingley, Mrs. Julia Bills and their mother, Mrs. George Wentworth have arrived here from Portland. Mrs. Tingley will stay home in a few days. Mrs. Bills and Mrs. Wentworth will remain for the summer.

SOUTH WARREN

Mrs. George Burns was a weekend guest at her old home here.

Mrs. Cynthia Counce, who spent the winter at Biddeford Pool is home for an indefinite stay. While away she fell and injured her arm seriously and is not able to use it.

T. W. Marshall has gone to Sanford and Springfield to superintend a water pipe job. From there he will go to Bangor for the same work.

Mrs. Martha Kirkpatrick has been a recent guest of Mrs. George Moody and also a caller at Mrs. Laura Brackett's in West Warren.

The housewives are rejoicing in the fact that the State road is soon to be covered thus doing away with the dust with which they have waged war for the past few years.

Mrs. S. B. Singleton of Thomaston was a recent guest of Mrs. Martha Kirkpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Millikin of Farmington visited at Sidney Stevens' Sunday.

TESTIMONIAL

South Brooksville, Me.
February 24, 1922.

Camden Anchor-Rockland Machine Co.,
Camden, Maine.

Gentlemen:—

"Thank you for sending the new gaskets for our 16 H. P. model 'G' motor. I like my motor very much. I have been using it now over a year; it has never caused me any trouble. It runs very smoothly and is very economical in every way, burning less than 1 1/2 gallons of fuel per hour, under full load; that is one of the good things about your Knox Motors, their economy on burning gas.

My motor is installed in a freight vessel, sixty-ton capacity, schooner rig. She will make five miles per hour when light. There are several people watching my motor work, and it is bound to bring you more business soon. Yours very truly, (Signed) CAPT. THURMAN GRAY.

ROCKLAND OFFICE

THOMASTON

The members of the Relief Corps are requested to meet in the hall Monday afternoon, May 29, to make wreaths. There will be a supper and regular meeting in the evening. A full attendance is desired.

Wilbur Strong is in Waterville this week.

Plans are being perfected for the observance of Memorial Day. Citizens, who are willing to lend their cars, and chauffeurs, who are willing to give their services, are requested to notify Leroy Colburn, past commander. Members of the different organizations will meet at Watts hall at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Further details will be announced later.

Miss Helen Stetson entertained the T. J. S. Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harriet Jameson and Mrs. Emma Greene of Vinalhaven were guests of Mrs. L. F. Jameson this week.

There will be a rummage sale for the benefit of the Thomaston Improvement Society on Monday May 29 in the Congregational vestry from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Please look up all rummages now and bring to the vestry Saturday or phone Miss Alice George who will call for it.

Miss Fannie Shaw is visiting friends in Portland this week. Miss Leola Wellman of Rockland is taking her place in the bank.

Stephen Hanley of this town died suddenly this morning while at work in the quarry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Elliot returned from Boston Monday.

Yeaton Robinson has returned from Providence.

Willis Spear is on a fishing trip to Megunticook Lake.

Miss Bessie Block entertained friends Monday evening in honor of her guest Miss Lillian Raichen of Bangor.

Ladies' night of the Baptist Men's Club Tuesday saw the tables occupied by 72 members and guests who enjoyed a menu of surpassing excellence, a memorable climax to the long line of delicious suppers served to the club during the past 15 years.

Following supper the always fascinating subject of "Captain Kidd's Treasure" was presented by W. O. Fuller of Rockland, the listeners at the close expressing appreciation by applause and a rising vote of thanks. Alfred C. Strout, the club's popular and efficient president, whose faithful interest and efforts have done so much for the club's prosperity, reviewed the club's history, referring to its beginning, when for the first three years the late Joseph E. Moore was president, himself occupying the position for the ensuing 12 years.

For various reasons, he said, the opinion had gained ground that it was better not to seek to carry on the club, and an expression being taken it was voted that it now disband. The club has been an interesting feature of the town, social life during its existence, and its disbandment will be generally regretted.

Watts hall will be open at 1:30 sharp, Friday afternoon for the opening of the fair and entertainment for the benefit of the New School Building Fund. First in order will be a cooked food sale under the efficient management of Mrs. Levi Seavey and Mrs. Charles Creighton. A candy table with Miss Elizabeth Washburn and Miss Jennie Moody in charge is sure to be well stocked and well patronized, while Mrs. George Gardiner will dispense Mrs. Thurston's ice cream. Any contributions for these tables will be gladly received by those in charge. At 2:30 the various grades below the Grammar will give an entertainment of songs, dances, games and recitations featuring large and small groups of Thomaston's most attractive little people. This program is in charge of Mrs. Clarence Brazier, the Queen and the Merry Minstrels in the Bailey school assisted by Miss Emily Perry of the Gleason school. By the checked seats, it may be safely assumed that everyone knows of the May evening, when the Grammar school under the expert guidance of Miss Elvira Gardiner, assisted by Miss Mary McPhail and Mrs. Marie Singer, will show their musical and dramatic ability. It is only to be regretted that the High School, which boasts much talent of this kind, could not present something for the fund but their generous gift of $25 is not forgotten and they will certainly come to the front another year.

Stephen Hanley, son of the late Patrick Hanley of Thomaston, dropped dead yesterday noon on the bank of the Creighton quarry, where he was employed. He had worked during the forenoon, but complained of not feeling well. During the noon hour Sewall Rich's horses ran away and Mr. Hanley went, with Rodington R. Robbins onto the bank to see what was happening. There Mr. Hanley collapsed, and was dead when Dr. Keller arrived. The latter turned the case over to Medical Examiner Crockett, who made an official investigation.

Mr. Hanley was about 50 years of age and unmarried. He had the reputation of being one of the best quarymen in this section. His sudden death is a great shock to many friends. The deceased is survived by two brothers, Fred and John Hanley; and one sister, Mary Hanley.

W. LESTER ROKES

William Lester Rokes, widely known in this section as turnkey of the county jail, and as a former building contractor, died Tuesday at the age of 71 years. He had long been a sufferer from heart disease, and several times during his last illness was very close to death's door. He recovered, however, to the extent that he was able to be out and about. This rally was quickly followed by a relapse, which necessitated his removal to a hospital.
Everything possible was done for him without avail.

The deceased was a native of Ash Point, and became very proficient at his trade as a house joiner. He had been in the employ of local building concerns, and as a contractor, himself built some of the largest and most elaborate structures in this part of the State, among them the Knox Hotel in Thomaston and the large cold storage plant at Port Clyde. He also had important building contracts in Massachusetts and Florida. The thoroughness of his work is one of the many mementos which will stand to his memory.

Increasing years and the uncertainty of the malady from which he was suffering brought a desire to retire from his strenuous labors, and he sought appointment as turnkey of the Knox County Jail. In this position while health permitted it, he gave the highest satisfaction. During his period of inactivity his youngest son, Sherman Rokes, was acting turnkey, and will probably succeed his father for the balance of the term.

Mr. Rokes' loyalty to the Republican party was of the staunchest type. He believed in its principles and was loyal to its standard bearers. He served four terms in the Common Council, and was in line for the alderman's berth when appointed turnkey. He was a member of Rockland Lodge, F. & A. M. He expressed a man everywhere was glad to call a friend and the expressions of sorrow which his death has caused are as a balm to the bereaved family.

The surviving children by Mr. Rokes first wife (Mary Sherman) are Wesley of Somerville, Austin of Auburn, and Everett of Rockland. An adopted son, Mr. Rokes is also survived by his second wife (Sarah E. Sherman) and their three children—Mrs. Gertrude Frances, Lewis and Sherman Rokes of Rockland. The devotion toward Mr.
Rokes and his granddaughter, Jessie
Rokes, lent great happiness to Mr.
Rokes' last years, and gave him additional incentive in making the great turnkey's residence on Limerock street
Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. B.
P. Browne will officiate.

Funeral services will be held at the
turnkey's residence on Limerock street
Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. B.
P. Browne will officiate.

This Paint Goes Further; Costs Less

You can't get any more out of a can of paint than the manufacturer put into it. Therefore, why expect to buy the best paint for the price of the next best? Lowe Brothers are paint makers with a reputation. They have been making dependable paint for more than 50 years. Their High Standard was the first high-grade paint made and sold in this country. If you've never used it, you've never used as good a paint. True, it costs a few cents more per gallon, but it goes further, which makes it cost less per job. Lasts longer, too. Come in and ask for details.

PARK THEATRE

Direct from New York, where it created a decided sensation, "A Virgin Paradise," the William Fox special by Hiram Percy Martin, is here for today and Friday. It is played by an all-star cast headed by Pearl White.

Also on this bill is the Harold Lloyd comedy, "Now or Never," guaranteed to make a dyspeptic happy. Saturday afternoon and evening, Van Arnam's Minstrels. Watch for the noonday street parade.—adv.

VAN ARNAM'S MINSTRELS

Due Here For Two Performances Saturday—Watch For Parade.

A minstrel show is always judged by the band it carries is an old time saying in the show business, and as true it is even to this day, and John R. Van Arnam's Minstrels are no exception to the rule. This company carries a 16-piece band, made up of soloists who render two concerts daily, besides taking place in the noonday parade. The orchestra, which consists of 10 musicians, is another feature which cannot be overlooked, as this part of the program has been taken care of by the management in a manner which makes the music part of John R. Van Arnam's Minstrels second to none. Special features with this minstrel show are:

Olin Landick, Feminine Reflections; Sears, Griffin and Johnson, the three Musical Rubes; Bill Conkling, that Eccentric Monologue Comedian; Rialto Harmony Four, Real Singers, Singing Real Songs; Jack Duncan, the Roping Ace; Edward J. Bolton, Minstrel's Most Versatile Performer; Ray Dion's Society Orchestra; The Flying Barlows, in Feats of Originality, Dexterity and Strength on the Roman Rings.
